Shannon Smith Hughes and Jennifer Smith Rogers, two thirds of the triplet siblings from the Smith Family of Artists in Charleston, SC live and paint in Charleston, SC where they co-own Anglin Smith Fine Art, with their mother Betty Anglin Smith and brother Tripp Smith. Both sisters earned their BFA at Clemson University in the early '90's.

Shannon Smith Hughes has been an artist living and painting in the Charleston, SC area for the past 20 years. She comes from the Smith family of artists, mother Betty Anglin Smith and triplet siblings Jennifer Smith Rogers and Tripp Smith. She is part owner of their family gallery, Anglin Smith Fine Art. Shannon has studied in the US and Europe with renowned artists Kim English, Gregg Kreutz, Kenn Backhaus, and Quang Ho. She is a signature member of Plein Air Painters of the Southeast, and often travels to plein air paint and exhibit with this accomplished group of artists. Shannon has taught plein air painting workshops locally and in Italy. Her collectors include corporations such as Clemson University Foundation, Piggly Wiggly Corporate Headquarters, Hospice of Charleston, and McCrady's restaurant.

Jennifer Smith Rogers' life has always revolved around art. Raised in a household of artists, her mother Betty Anglin Smith and her twin sister Shannon Smith Hughes are also highly regarded artists. Her brother, Tripp Smith, is an accomplished photographer. The family now owns Anglin Smith Fine Art in the French Quarter of Charleston. Her works have been featured in galleries along the Eastern Coast from St. Simons, GA, to Martha's Vineyard. Her works hang in many prominent corporate and private collections including Walt Disney World, the Family Circle Cup in Daniel Island, SC, McCrady's restaurant in Charleston, SC, and Stanley Furniture in High Point, NC. An active member of Plein-Air Painters of the Southeast (PAPSE), she is also an associate member of Oil Painters of America and American Impressionists Society.
